

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the Circulation of either contemporary paper published in Los Angeles. As an advertising medium it is consequently of DOUBLE their value.

THE Press of Santa Barbara was very angry recently, because a publication was made in the HERALD concerning an application for an appropriation from Santa Barbara county to send East the Press. Now, what was slanderous in our quotation is not known, no more than is known what was discreditable in the application. No doubt Santa Barbara county would be repaid ten fold for any appropriation it might see fit to make in this direction; and the Press certainly had every right to look to its own interest and that of the county.

LETTER FROM WILMINGTON.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 10, 1873.
On Saturday afternoon a Mexican, named Montana, dropped dead in the street near Mr. Keyes' store. He had just come out of a gambling saloon, where he generally spent his Sundays. The cause of his death is supposed to have been a ruptured artery. He was buried to-day. He leaves a wife and six young children, without any visible means of support.

Captain Smith's vessel, which was seized by the Collector for violating the revenue laws, has been released and restored to him.
The amount of shipping to this harbor is gradually increasing. The large ship Constellation has nearly finished discharging her cargo of about three hundred tons of coal for the railroad company.

The circumstances of the shooting affair, which occurred in Wilmington a week ago, were somewhat different from the statement published in the Star. The two Mexicans had been to a party, where they became crazed by drinking too much hard whiskey. When they started to go home, Ruiz offered to shake hands with Plancho, who extended to him his left hand, while with his right hand he pointed a pistol within six inches of his face and fired. The ball entered the roof of the nose, and lodged in the back part of the neck. Probably the whole truth will appear on the examination.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Following is the opinion rendered by Judge Widney, on the case of B. Doubourdieu vs. George Butler, City Treasurer:

In this case it appears that the management of the Irrigating Zanjias of Los Angeles city, was by act of the Legislature, 1870, taken from the Mayor and Common Council, and placed in the hands of a Board of Water Commissioners—the Board having power to collect water-rates, to constitute a Water Fund, on which the Board were authorized to draw warrants for repairing, constructing and improving the zanjias.

During the existence of said Board it drew warrants to a large amount, of which some $8,000 are now unpaid. In 1872, the above Act was repealed, and the management of the zanjias was placed in the hands of the Mayor and Common Council. The money collected by said Board of Water Commissioners has all paid out, and the still remaining $8,000 unpaid, which the Treasurer refused to pay out of the present Water Fund, alleging that the present Water Fund is a different Fund, and is not liable for the warrants of the Board of Water Commissioners. This action is brought to enforce the payment of said warrants.

No proof is offered to show any fraud in the drawing of the warrants, or that the work for which they were drawn was not done, nor that the money on the warrants is not justly due the petitioner for work done.

The gist of the whole defense, as presented to this Court—and the Court can regard nothing else—is this: The city seeks to avoid payment of a just debt through a legal technicality. It is called a just debt, because no proof is attempted to the contrary, and the presumption of law is, that the Board of Water Commissioners acted regularly and honestly. Code of Civil Procedure, Sec. 1,967, Sub. 15, 33, 39.

The points raised by the defense, are that the Water Fund at present is different from the Water Fund of the said Board, and is not liable for its debts; also, that the Legislature had no right to interfere with the water-rights of the city, said rights being claimed under the Mexican Government as in fee simple. Whatever may have been the old Public rights, it is not necessary to discuss—for when the city incorporated and acted under the incorporating act of the Legislature of 1850, it voluntarily accepted the duties, obligations, etc., resulting from that act, and can not now question these. As to the other point, the Court is of the opinion that the Water Fund remains the same, and is liable. That obligation to pay said warrants is a contract, and no act of the Legislature changing the Water Fund, or obliterating it, can under the Constitution affect the validity of said warrants.

Let the mandamus issue as prayed for.

R. M. WIDNEY, Judge.
McConnell & King for Petitioner.
A. W. Hutton for Respondent.

A New Arrival.

We clip the following reference to one of the members of a recently established law firm in this city, from the Express:

Among the latest arrivals on the Mohongo we notice the name of J. E. Bates of the law firm of Bates & Braman, lately established in this city. Mr. Bates has been engaged in the practice of law for the past eight years. He is a graduate of Harvard College and Law School, is a member of the Supreme Court—the highest Court of record in the Union—and of the Supreme Court of California. Mr. Braman is well known to many of our citizens, having been with us nearly a year, though only as a visitor until quite recently. Both these gentlemen were formerly law partners, and we are glad to welcome them to a place among the legal fraternity.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A Washington correspondent had an interview with Secretary Fish to-day regarding the shooting of the passengers of the Virginian, and the Secretary said that it was cold-blooded murder. No one of sound judgment pretends to apologize for it, but the Cubans themselves say they have had presumed patriots running loose in New York and Washington who had been made of sterner metal would have been fighting on the island instead of manufacturing useless and pseudo enthusiasm in those cities. No one denies that Ryan and his confederates were in command of Cubans. If an American is willing to enter into the service of foreign powers, he does so at his own risk and has no right at every turn which proves inimical to his own interest or life, to ask the intervention of our Government, after he has voluntarily left to battle for another power. It would have been much more creditable to the Cuban authorities to have kept their officers at home doing service where it was valuable. The Secretary further added that he sympathized with Cuba, but could not render them any aid, as it would conflict with the law of nations. Further, he wanted better metal from Cuba than has been sent, before he could hope to hear of them ultimately achieving their independence. In the present juncture of affairs he said the State departments will use their utmost diligence to be advised at the earliest practicable moment after we have the full facts. This Government cannot now act because it has no basis upon which to proceed firmly and intelligently. It may be a week before the news is presented in an official shape.

The loss of the steamer Ismalia is fully credited at the Ship News Exchange. She had no passengers. She was last seen on the 2d of October off the coast of Nova Scotia.

The Tammany Hall Committee sat this evening again, to investigate the late alleged election frauds. Simon Stein testified that he heard three men, on the evening before the election, arranging to repeat, and saw one of them repeat next day. He challenged them, and the inspector refused his vote. A number of witnesses testified to the inspector tearing up and changing the tickets; also that the inspectors and police had intimidated naturalized citizens. Two inspectors swore that in one election district they counted 125 tickets for Charles Riley, and 108 for John Ryan. They consequently saw returns altered to 176 for Reiley. Other evidence was taken, bearing very hard on Police Commissioner Churlick, and United States Commissioner John S. Davenport.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The Tribune's Philadelphia correspondent telegraphs: "Col. Thomas A. Scott informed me this afternoon that no more bills of the Texas Pacific Construction Company will be allowed to go to protest, and that John Welsh will arrange an extension with holders. Col. Scott says the failure of the Company, for virtually it is a failure, is mainly attributable to the present scarcity of money in Europe and at home, their consequent inability to dispose of their bonds, and thus meet their obligations. He is of the opinion that the difficulties will be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned."

An answer has been filed by Ex-President Allen, in the case of Aaron Freeman, against him and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. A general denial is made to all charges of fraud and malfeasance in office. It sets forth among other things, that during the year 1873 the Pacific Mail Steamship Company owned a certain amount of stock of the Panama Railroad Company but that the Company disposed of it during the same year. The friends of Stockwell said that when he became President of the Company it had 27,000 shares of Panama stock. He afterwards said it was desirable to obtain more funds, and Stockwell sold 15,000 shares of stock at 100, leaving 12,000 shares which were hypothecated or loaned for account of the Company in the transaction of its regular business. They allege that these securities were enhanced in value, so that the company actually profited to the extent of one million dollars by the operations of its president. After hypothecation twelve thousand shares of stock began to fall, and the securities of the company were pledged to secure those with whom transactions had been made. These securities were afterwards purchased by Stockwell, and in payment thereof he gave mortgages and notes of the Howe Sewing Machine Company. This left Stockwell to pay the company a debt of $1,200,000, with interest, for these suits were brought to a careful consideration by the directors, who agreed to an adjournment of the claims on Stockwell's payment to the company of $1,200,000.

KEY WEST, Nov. 10.—A letter from Havana, of Nov. 6th, gives the following account of the execution of the Virginian prisoners at Santiago de Cuba: Four prisoners were shot at a place made famous by previous executions, in the usual manner, kneeling. All marched to the spot with firmness. Brambetta and Ryan showed marked courage, although the former was slightly affected toward the last. Two others broke down before their eyes were bandaged, but the former kept up to the last, and never flinched a moment, and died without fear or regret. Bambetta and Ryan were killed at the first discharge.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.
The General Convention of the People's Protective Alliance met at 2 P. M. to-day, and after considerable debate effected an organization by electing T. N. Ward President, and Wm. C. Geary, Secretary; a committee of ten on platform and resolutions was appointed after a long debate, and the reading of a long series of resolutions, offered by General Winn. The same committee was charged with the duty of drawing up an address to the people of the United States on the subject of Chinese in this country, and the proper means for stopping their influx. This committee is to report on or before next Thursday. The Convention then adjourned till evening.

A very large crowd assembled at the Lick House to-night for the purpose of buying pools in the great race which takes place next Saturday. Thad Stevens was the favorite from the start, the pools selling in the following proportions: Thad Stevens, $50; Joe Daniels, $30; True Blue, $23; Hubbard, $15. The bidding was very lively. The room in which the pools were sold was much too small for the crowd of buyers.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held to-night. Committees were appointed as follows: One to confer with Senator Casserly of the United States Senate Committee on Transportation. One on Fares and Freight, and another to consult with the legislative delegation, on the subject of the City Water Front, and another to make nominations of officers of the Chamber, to be voted for next January.

The Anti-Chinese Committee met at 7:30. The Committee on Resolutions reported progress and said it would make a final report on Thursday. Speeches were made by W. B. Starr, Joseph Laidly, and others. The Committee adjourned until Thursday next at 7 P. M.

The civil suits against Captain Clarke, of the Sunrise, by his sailors to recover damages, are pending in the County Court. The defense introduced a large number of sea captains this afternoon, who swore that the act of trying sailors up by the wrist to the rigging of vessels, and keeping them there from eight to forty-eight hours, is a usual mode of punishment in the American marine. The case is being tried before a jury.

The Board of Supervisors passed an order last night, granting H. J. Booth & Co. 20 acres of Central Basin, Mission Bay, for purposes of a ship yard.

THE PORT OF WILMINGTON.

The whole truth in regard to this port has never been fairly given to the people. Having no journal of her own to present her claims to the public, she has fallen a prey to the envy and jealousy of other parts. We are sorry to record the fact, that the press is too prone to deal with the disagreeable features of all things. How different the life of humanity would look, if instead of publishing all the sad and evil things committed by the worst type of our race, a faithful record of all the noble, honest, and benevolent actions were given. The same is true of any city or country. There is much that is really desirable and pleasant, in and around Wilmington. But the attention of the public has never been directed to it. They have a beautiful bay for pleasure excursions, they have a sea beach of eight miles, unsurpassed on the Pacific coast; indeed we do not know of any superior, for carriage driving and sea bathing, except it be at Galveston, Texas. There is a small mountain northwest of the city that cuts off the strong, chilly sea winds, and gives them a delightful, balmy atmosphere, making it one of the most agreeable places for a seaside residence on this coast. But none of these pleasant features are ever mentioned by the press, and why? Because Santa Barbara, San Buenaventura, and San Diego are jealous. It is time to stop this strife. Wilmington is our port, and the natural outlet to Los Angeles county and a large territory back of us, and it is the duty as well as the best interest of this city and county to unite and do all they can to build up an important shipping port at that place.

But we are met with the objection that "it is in the hands of a monopoly, and stands between us and our interest. In the first place Gen. Banning, Tichenor & Co. have established a system of extortion by lightering, and charge three prices for everything that passes that way, and for lumber, merchandise, produce and travel, this county pays an annual tribute to that concern of over $2000,000." There is too much truth in this. But the spirit of anti-monopoly is strong enough now for the people to assert their right, and force such men out of the way.

The Government of the United States, recognizing the importance of this harbor to Commerce, have begun and will continue to appropriate funds to make it a good and safe harbor, if we will unite and demand it. We are informed that there is nearly $100,000, yet left of the former appropriation. Let that be expended in dredging the channel, and in three months the "Orizaba" and "Mohongo" will land at the wharf, and meet the cars. The fact is, this is our only hope for a harbor. If we foolishly go to work to run the railroad out to Dead Man's Island, or build a road to Shelly, we will only open an open roadstead at best. At Wilmington we can have a safe harbor—a beautiful bay, and the most prosperous shipping port in Southern California, if our people will unite and demand it. We may as well say to the monopolists, "Your days are numbered, dry up your cursed monopoly; the people will not stand this any longer. If you are disposed to act for the good of the people, we now give you a chance, but if you undertake to keep up this extortion, you may look out for trouble."

More anon. PATIENCE.

COLLEGE HAZING.—Yesterday, the first Monday of the college year at Harvard, goes among the collegians by the name of "Bloody Monday," as it is the day on which the severest hazing of the freshmen is prosecuted by the sophomores. The cruel and unmanly abuse of the unsophisticated boys who have just become members of the college, is often carried to extremes which is a disgrace to the college and to human nature, and there is no line of argument in favor which can palliate, much less vindicate it. We call to mind one instance of hazing on "Bloody Monday" which is admirably and sweetly touching as such instances are generally revolting and disgraceful. It occurred, if we remember correctly, in 1862. It was noticed by two sophomores that two country boys had begun their housekeeping in a room on the ground floor of one of the college halls, with a miserable apology for a bed, no carpet, no table, two chairs, a lamp, a bookcase, a stove, etc., and in their closet they found provisions for several days. This was hazing to a blessed purpose. We fear that the example stands almost or quite alone. [—New Bedford Mercury.]

Stokes, the murderer, has escaped with four years imprisonment. O temporal Omnes! O vanitas vanitatum! O, Justice, blind indeed, when one man can shoot another down like a dog, in cold blood, and escape with such a punishment as this. Hoodlum shoots hoodlum for seducing hoodlum, and the law—remembering the fate of Kilkenny cats and trusting for a similar result—blinks lazily and lets the thing go by. This was well enough, but the murder of Fisk was something more than this, and his blood cried from the ground for justice at least, if not for vengeance. [—News Letter.]

The Napa Gang Plow.

TO THE FARMERS OF LOS

Angeles County: We call your attention to the new IMPROVED GANG PLOW, patented by D. A. Manuel of Napa, and adopted by the Farmers of this State. The points of superiority are: Lightness of draft, it being a centre draft; a castor wheel in the rear, which makes it turn in a space sufficient to second moderate length; it has a falling pole and can, by adding, be adjusted to the driver's weight, and removes all pressure from the horses' necks. We only ask farmers to call and examine for themselves.
